PART I

INFORMATION ON THE VERDITEK GROUP

Introduction

Verditek is a holding company in the clean technology sector with subsidiaries operating within what it considers are emergent and fast growing sectors (industrial treatment of solids, air purification, water de-odourisation, zero emission, low cost energy). The Board and the Group's management teams provide financial and industry expertise and support to the Group's businesses.

On Admission, the Company's subsidiaries will be involved in advanced solar photovoltaic ("PV"), filtration and absorption technologies specialising in providing environmental services, such as:

- a liquid gas absorption technology which could revolutionise global CO<sub>2</sub> capture as well as other emission control technologies across numerous industries (oil and gas, cement and others);
- two solar PV production lines based in San Marino with a combined production capacity of 50MWp per annum. Verditek is in partnership with a specialist in solar technology development, Claudio Marati and his team; and
- a filtration de-odourisation technology already commercially proven in numerous countries that de-odourises waste water and removes odours from other waste streams.

Verditek plc

Verditek, which was incorporated on 10 April 2016 in England and Wales (company number 10114644) as a private limited company and re-registered as a public limited company on 6 March 2017, is a holding company for three businesses in the clean technology sector.

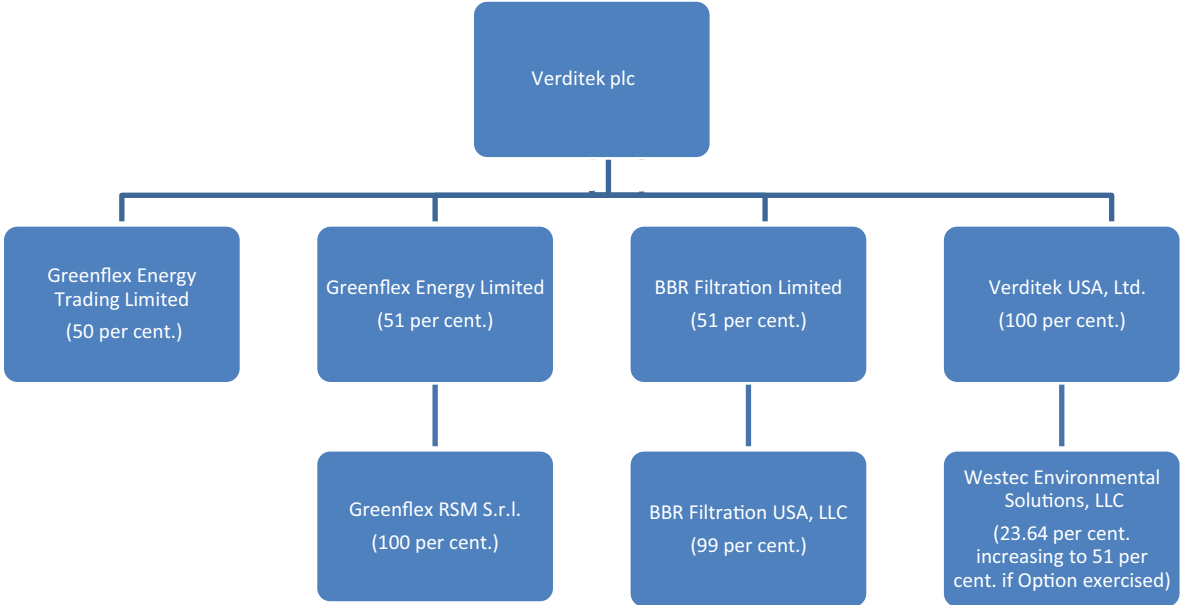

On Admission, the Group will comprise Verditek plc and its subsidiaries:

- Greenflex (in which Verditek holds a 51 per cent. interest);
- Greenflex San Marino (held entirely by Greenflex);
- BBR (in which Verditek will hold a 51 per cent. interest);
- BBR USA (in which BBR holds a 99 per cent. interest); and
- Verditek US (held entirely by Verditek).

Verditek US will hold a 23.64 per cent. interest in WES together with an option to increase this holding up to 51 per cent. exercisable at any time during the period of 12 months from Admission. The Option exercise price is £1.25 million.

Further, the Company holds a 50 per cent. interest in Greenflex Trading. Greenflex Trading is currently a dormant company but it is intended that it will hold marketing rights and/or licensing opportunities in relation to the products manufactured by Greenflex and Greenflex San Marino.

The Group structure immediately following Admission will be as set out below:

Financial information

The Company was incorporated on 10 April 2016 and has not yet commenced operations. Parts IIIA and IIIB of this document disclose the historical financial information of the Company.

Parts IIIC to IIIH and Part IV of this document include historical financial information on the Group’s current and proposed subsidiaries, of which the historical financial information on Greenflex in Part IIIC and BBR in Part IIIH is provided in narrative form on the basis that they have only recently been incorporated and have not yet commenced operations.

Rationale behind Verditek plc corporate structure

All of the underlying businesses being acquired by Verditek and their respective management teams are well-known to the Verditek founders. Verditek was established as a result of the founders’ vision to combine early revenues and cash flow generation from solar manufacturing (Greenflex) and filtration (BBR) with the longer gestation future growth and value uplift coming from the absorption technology (WES).

Greenflex San Marino – Solar photovoltaics

History and developments

The Group’s subsidiary, Greenflex San Marino, which is indirectly owned via the Group’s 51 per cent. interest in Greenflex, has been assigned absolutely, with full-title guarantee, all the rights, title and interest in and to the intellectual property rights and know-how necessary to produce the solar PV technology developed by Claudio Marati, a director of Green Power Industries Limited. Further information on Claudio Marati can be found in the Directors and Senior Management section of this Part 1 below.

In July 2016 Greenflex San Marino agreed to purchase and install in San Marino two solar PV production lines with a total manufacturing capacity of 50MWp of solar panels per annum. San Marino offers attractive tax incentives for new technology companies to locate themselves in its territory. Going forward, the Directors intend for the San Marino plant to supply “solar enhanced” building products such as PV roof tiles, PV facades and other PV products to new developments for residential and commercial buildings with the potential for Greenflex San Marino products to be used as a modern, more efficient solution to fit easily over existing solar panels and boost the output of existing solar farms.

Greenflex San Marino intends to generate revenue from the sale of PV products. On 5 December 2013, the European Union imposed anti-dumping and anti-subsidy duties on imports of solar cells and solar panels from China. These duties were imposed following investigations that showed that solar cells and solar panels were being imported into the EU at dumping prices and were being subsidised. This resulted in the European Commission setting a minimum pricing system for solar panels of €0.56/W. There is therefore, potential for considerable revenue generation from Greenflex San Marino's total manufacturing capacity of 50MWp of solar panels per annum.

Longer term, Greenflex intends to explore licencing opportunities of its technology through Greenflex Trading, which is currently a dormant company.

The Directors consider that the selling points of Greenflex San Marino's main technology are the following product innovations:

- interconnectivity of the individual PV cells in each panel replacing the high temperature solar cell soldering required in the manufacturing process of traditional solar panels;
- high efficiency in low light conditions;
- lower Normal Operating Cell Temperature (NOCT) value to enable continued operation in very hot climates;
- use of micro inverters as opposed to string inverters;
- continued operation in event of cracks;
- use of a polymer to replace glass and allow for low module weight;
- increased flexibility and lightness; and
- innovative manufacturing process.

Leveraging the selling points and qualities of the Greenflex San Marino product as set out above, the Directors intend to explore a completely new market for roof tiles, building facades and light industrial roofs going forward.

Intellectual Property

Paragraph 9.8 of Part V of this document includes details of the agreement under which Claudio Marati assigned to Greenflex San Marino all intellectual property rights in knowhow, technical expertise and an innovative manufacturing process for assembling solar systems and PV modules which are expected to be used on the two assembly lines in San Marino.

WES

Carbon Capture and Sequestration ("CCS") is a technology that can capture up to 90 per cent. of the carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>) emissions produced from the use of fossil fuels in electricity generation and industrial processes, preventing the carbon dioxide from entering the atmosphere.

The use of CCS with renewable biomass is one of the few carbon abatement technologies that can be used in a 'carbon-negative' mode – actually removing carbon dioxide from the atmosphere.

WES has developed a novel multiphase contacting process using a proprietary froth generator that can dramatically enhance mass transfer in gas/liquid absorption systems.

The Directors believe the technology applies to all solvent-based CCS processes, as well as other gas/liquid absorption processes that are currently deployed in natural gas processing, petroleum refineries and numerous other industries.

History and developments

WES was organised in 2008 as a joint venture between Peletex, Inc. (incorporated in Hawaii, US) ("Peletex"), and Westec International Ltd. (incorporated in Illinois, US) ("Westec"). Peletex contributed certain intellectual property and technical expertise related to a froth-based chem-bio filtration technology and Westec contributed business management and fund raising expertise. WES adapted this technology to industrial emissions control, including for CO<sub>2</sub> capture.

In April 2010, Process Holdings Pty Ltd. (“Process Group”), a design and build engineering company based in Melbourne, Australia and one of the forerunners in CCS plants, joined the joint venture and became a member of WES. Initial investment from this partnership enabled WES to establish a CO<sub>2</sub> capture laboratory located in Maui, Hawaii in 2011 which has an approximate 0.5 tonne per day capture capacity.

WES won the Perseo Award in 2011 in the carbon capture and clean combustion category. Perseo is the corporate venture capital programme of Iberdrola Ventures which set up the Perseo Awards. The objective of the Perseo Awards is to promote projects in their initial development stage based on innovative technological application in the clean energies sector, which involves a substantial advance in economic, environmental and/or social terms in relation to the solutions applied at present. The Perseo Awards are granted following an assessment of the participants and their experience, which may include the use of experts. Following this, in June 2011, Inversiones Financieras Perseo SL, a Spanish company and the corporate venture capital programme of Iberdrola Group (“Iberdrola”), invested in WES. Since May 2009 to the date of this document, a total of approximately $7.2 million has been invested in WES, in cash and as a provision of services.

Iberdrola commissioned a leading London university (the “university”) to undertake an assessment of WES’ carbon capture technology prior to its investment. The resulting report noted that, inter alia, (a) WES’ technology has the potential to become a sound piece of process equipment; (b) the rewards, should such technology be commercialised, are large; and (c) the carbon capture market has the potential to be a viable process technology. The university went on to recommend that the technology be first proved at a pilot scale in the field.

In line with the recommendation from the university and as a result of the partnerships with Process Group and Iberdrola, the WES contactor was tested on the Hazelwood coal fired power station in Latrobe Valley Australia (a brown coal environment), which was completed early in 2014. This was a joint program with, amongst others, CO2CRC of the University of Melbourne funded by the Brown Coal Innovation of Australia. The WES absorber demonstrated that it can operate with four to five times the modelled interfacial area per volume compared to conventional packing. The WES absorber technology also demonstrated its ability to capture CO<sub>2</sub> from combustion gas flues in electric power generation.

The Board believes the global carbon capture market is a huge opportunity going forward. Although technical feasibility of capturing significant amounts of CO<sub>2</sub> from large power generators was demonstrated in the first generation of projects that utilised traditional technologies, the indicators were that these technologies proved too expensive for commercial applications.

At the heart of the WES contactor technology is the patented regenerative packing which creates a froth matrix that continuously forms and collapses. It is this froth matrix, rather than the metallic surface of the packing itself, that creates the surface area for mass transfer. Furthermore, the WES contactor takes advantage of solvent pulsing phenomena. Although pulsing in co-current systems has been studied extensively, the critical innovation is that the internals of the WES contactor are specifically optimised to maximize this effect while minimizing the amount of internal packing. Due to the modular design of the technology, the Directors believe that the system may be scaled up to any size required by the operator.

The current technology development focus consists of two joint programmes. The Board believes that a short-term path to market involves a Carbon Capture and Utilisation (“CCU”) project with Blue Planet Ltd (“Blue Planet”), a company based in California, with the aim of reducing carbon emissions from cement plants. In this project, captured CO<sub>2</sub> is used in the manufacturing of cement and aggregates. Upon successful completion of testing, the WES board will seek to incorporate its technology in the design package of the Blue Planet cement plants.

WES also has a joint programme with SINTEF (The Foundation for Scientific and Industrial Research) of Norway and CMC Research Institutes, Inc. (formerly Carbon Management Canada, Inc.) to develop third generation phase change solvents. This programme is currently funded via CLIMIT, a Norwegian national programme managed by Gassnova, a Norwegian Government owned entity.

In summary, the WES contactor technology combines the high mass transfer characteristics of packed-bed towers with the ability to operate in mixed phase flow conditions (gas, liquid, solid).

The Board believes that the WES contactor has potential for broad applications across many areas that traditional contactors currently occupy. However, going forward the Board believes that CO<sub>2</sub> capture represents the best case for initial implementation and market acceptance since it has the lowest barrier to entry, represents the highest area of competency and has strong industry and multi-government support for the new technology. All of the projects currently underway at WES have at least 50 per cent. cost support from industry, government or partner contribution.

Short Term Opportunities

Carbon Capture and Utilisation

Although it is an emerging and alternative market to CCS, the Board believes that CCU presents the quickest path to market. This is because CCU creates a revenue stream for its products. The Directors believe the CCU market can be segmented in two sectors with the following characteristics for each sector:

- indirect utilisation, where captured CO<sub>2</sub> is purified, compressed and sold as a compressed gas to customers in the chemicals, fuels, food and beverage industries among others; and
- direct utilisation, where captured CO<sub>2</sub> is directly utilised in a commodity product manufacturing process such as concrete aggregate and other building materials to avoid the need for CO<sub>2</sub> purification, compression and transport.

The Blue Planet (calcium carbonate) mineralisation process offers access to a major global market that supplies building materials to local markets and avoids many obstacles that have prevented CCS from being commercially viable in the past.

The Board believes that the WES contactor will further enhance the Blue Planet competitive advantage enabling CO<sub>2</sub> capture to be more cost effective with a smaller and lighter foot-print and standardised and modular design. The Directors expect this to reduce engineering, design and construction costs.

Carbon Capture and Sequestration

Two thirds of the cost of CCS result from the capture technology with the balance represented by the sequestration portion of the technology. Solvent-based CCS is considered to offer the best opportunity for commercialisation of CCS in the near term with a number of proven solvent-based processes currently available. If solvent-based CCS is to achieve commercial success, significant improvements in solvents are required together with the investigation of innovative technologies. One of the highest capital and operational costs associated with a solvent-based capture technology is the solvent regeneration part of the process. A promising solution to reducing this cost is to utilise phase-change (precipitating) solvents. Implementation of these phase-change solvents has been hampered by the fact that they cannot utilise traditional packed bed contactors due to issues with clogging and fouling. Phase-change processes have had to resort to inefficient spray towers or complicated process flows to avoid this clogging problem. It is the Directors' belief that the WES contactor with its turbulent flow simultaneously enhances precipitation and avoids clogging and therefore represents a significant opportunity to implement these cost saving phase-change technologies.

As stated above, the WES contactor has been evaluated by SINTEF under a project funded by the CLIMIT programme. The Phase 1 feasibility study has been successfully completed and the Phase 2 Inspire project is scheduled to start in 2017.

Competitive advantages of the WES technology

The high concentration and massive volume required by CCS and CCU means that conventional technology can have trouble adapting. The novel innovation at WES has allowed it to deliver a gas to liquid absorber with high mass transfer rates with the intention to produce and manage solids in situ.

The Board believes that the WES technology enables new solutions to the CO<sub>2</sub> challenge and will establish a new niche which specifically targets the CCS and CCU requirements. CCU and CCS have huge potential for growth due to the growing threat posed by continued CO<sub>2</sub> emissions into the atmosphere. Once a market presence and competency has been established, the Board intends to expand into more traditional and competitive emission control or Oil and Gas industry applications.

Intellectual Property

WES owns four patents issued in the United States in relation to its absorber technology:

Patent/Pub. No.	Issue/Pub. Date	Title
9545598	17/01/2017	Absorber
6616733	12/12/2010	Method and means for filtering air stream with aqueous froth
6872240	29/03/2005	Method and apparatus for filtering an air stream using an aqueous froth together with nucleation
7854791	21/12/2010	Method and means for simultaneously generating an aqueous froth and numerous micro-droplets for use in filtering a contaminated air stream

In addition WES has four pending patent applications (certain of which are pending in Canada) and has also been granted international patents in territories such as Germany, Spain, Italy, France, Ireland, the United Kingdom and Australia.

BBR Filtration Limited – Odour Control

The Board considers that in the modern world of wastewater treatment, control of odours has moved from an afterthought to a primary design consideration for most collection and treatment facilities. As residential development encroaches on facilities and occupants become less tolerant of nuisance odours, wastewater professionals have found the need to address odour as a primary concern in the design and operation of collection and treatment facilities.

History and developments

BBR, incorporated on 8 June 2015 in England and Wales (company number 09628852), holds sole distributorship rights over products based on the intellectual property rights behind the patented BBR fluidised bio-filter invention. Going forward, BBR has the potential to establish exclusivity over such rights in line with an agreement entered into with the BBR patent holder. The bio-filter system, removes over 99 per cent. of hydrogen sulphide from wastewater streams. BBR's former chairman and inventor, Erasmus van Niekerk, has a further patent application for the bio-filter process which uses the same fluidised bio-filter technology as his Veritech filter.

The innovative element of the process involves a fluidised media-bed using continuous mixing of the media and upward air velocity. The fluidisation process increases the active surface area by a hundred times over static-bed systems enabling the gas to have high contact with the biofilm, thus improving efficiency.

The process involves a water spray injection mechanism. Further enhancement is provided within this stage by a standard corona plasma reactor, creating ozone which is mixed with the water to react and neutralise hydrogen sulphide. An efficient water recycling ancillary system minimises the amount of water used, and pH control is effected by low caustic dosing. The fluidised bed bioreactor constitutes the final polishing phase, resulting in discharge of practically clean, odour free air to the atmosphere.

The system only requires:

- three-phase electrical power;
- a normal mains water supply;
- sewer drainage; and
- inlet and outlet air ducts.

The system is monitored and controlled remotely to report irregularities. The process is continuous and the media is self-regenerating.

The system can be supplied in four sizes (by airflow throughput):

- 1,600 m<sup>3</sup> per hour unit;
- 3,000 m<sup>3</sup> per hour unit;
- 6,000 m<sup>3</sup> per hour unit; and
- 12,000 m<sup>3</sup> per hour unit.

All units may be free standing, are transportable and may be run side-by-side or be stacked to process larger flows.

The key features of the plant are:

- self-regenerating microbes;
- moveable;
- only requires a normal mains water supply;
- end product is air with c. 99 per cent. of hydrogen sulphide removed; and
- can be remotely controlled and monitored.

Competition

The Board reasonably believes that the BBR bio-filter can operate at a wide range of temperatures.

The Board is aware of alternative techniques to the BBR bio-filter including: standard bio; wet scrubbing; thermal oxidation; and chemical scrubbing and oxidation, however it believes that no other company has the same system as BBR and that BBR's competitors:

- are more expensive than the BBR bio-filter to run;
- require a larger footprint, so are environmentally and visually less friendly;
- have higher maintenance costs in terms of energy costs and media use; and
- are less sustainable either in terms of chemical usage or further waste product requiring disposal.

The directors' believe that the system is also effective with high or variable inlet temperatures.

A BBR bio-filter unit was sold by the patent holder to the Fisantekraal Waste Water Plant, Cape Town, for the purposes of removing hydrogen sulphide ("H<sub>2</sub>S") and odour and has been operating there for a number of years.

This unit has been able to remove over 99 per cent. of hydrogen sulphide and the Directors believe that it can completely remove a variety of odours in a continuous operation. The air flow is pre-treated, and then the PH level in the washwater is optimised and ozone injected, thereby absorbing the hydrogen sulphide, which oxidises into a sulphate and then is easily disposed of.

In addition, BBR is in the process of acquiring three commercial units from BBR Enviro Systems (Pty) Limited, which are already available for use by BBR, to be made available for trial. One of these units has recently been trialled at the HACO Food and Spice manufacturing plant in Bern, Switzerland (2013). The trial at this plant was successful and resulted in the client issuing a statement that it would order a full unit at the end of the trial.

Sole Distributor

BBR has been appointed sole distributor by BBR Bio Filtrations (Proprietary) Limited of the units comprising the BBR patented technology with the right to certain geographical exclusivity if regional customers contract within a specified period. The legally binding Memorandum of Agreement comprises the supply of two demonstration units and the commercial terms of the distribution rights.

Recent developments

BBR is reviewing potential sales opportunities of the bio-filter in the UK and, subject to approval from the UK Environment Agency, hopes to install its bio-filter in a new wastewater treatment plant for a poultry processing company.

BBR has set up an American subsidiary, BBR USA, and has also appointed a US agent. In 2016, BBR USA ran a trial for the Toho Water Authority, the largest provider of water, wastewater and reclaimed water services in Osceola County, Florida, US, and the Board expects after completing some minor modifications relating to measurement systems to complete the trial during 2017. Going forward, and subject to the completion of this trial, BBR USA intends to enter into negotiations with the Toho Water Authority to improve the air quality of their plants.

BBR USA is in advanced talks with the Miami Dade County Water Authority and is also part of a tender process in which it is a supplier with pre-qualified technology.

In South Africa, the Board believes that BBR has the potential to be appointed as the recognised supplier of air purification for Agri-Protein Technology (Pty) Limited, a company that produces food protein from fly larvae and maggots, following its trial.

Employees

The Group currently has one employee, being Theodore Chapman, Chief Executive Officer.

Corporate Governance

The Directors recognise the importance of sound corporate governance and confirm that, following Admission, they intend to apply the principles of the QCA Code in the manner which the Directors consider appropriate for the Company. The QCA Code has become a widely recognised benchmark for corporate governance of smaller quoted companies, particularly AIM companies.

Following Admission, the Board will meet around 6 times a year to review, formulate and approve the Group's strategy, budgets, corporate actions and oversee the Group's progress towards its goals. There is an Audit Committee and a Remuneration Committee in place with formally delegated duties and responsibilities and with specific terms of reference. From time to time separate committees may be set up by the Board to consider specific issues when the need arises. José Luis del Valle Doblado has been appointed as the Senior Independent Director. Due to the size of the Group, the Directors have decided that issues concerning the nomination of directors will be dealt with by the Board rather than a committee but will regularly reconsider whether a nomination committee is required.

The Audit Committee comprises Geoffrey Nesbitt as chairman and José Luis del Valle Doblado.

The Remuneration Committee comprises José Luis del Valle Doblado as chairman and Anthony Rawlinson.

The Audit Committee determines the terms of engagement of the Group's auditors and will determine, in consultation with the auditors, the scope of the audit. The Audit Committee receives and reviews reports from management and the Group's auditors relating to the interim and annual accounts and the accounting and internal control systems in use throughout the Group. The Audit Committee has unrestricted access to the Group's auditors.

The Remuneration Committee reviews the scale and structure of the executive Directors' and senior employees' remuneration and the terms of their service or employment contracts, including share option schemes and other bonus arrangements. The remuneration and terms and conditions of the non-executive Directors are set by the entire Board.

Following Admission, the Board will be responsible for monitoring the Group's risks and implementing other systems which are deemed necessary.

Dividend Policy

The Group is primarily seeking to achieve capital growth for its Shareholders. It is the Board's intention during the current phase of the Group's development to retain future distributable profits from the business to the extent any are generated. The Directors do not anticipate declaring any dividends in the foreseeable future.

Taxation

Your attention is drawn to the Taxation section contained in paragraph 10 of Part V of this document. This information is intended only as a general guide to the current tax position in the UK. Any investor who is in any doubt as to his or her tax position, or is subject to tax in a jurisdiction other than the UK, should consult his or her own independent professional adviser without delay.

Share Dealing Policy

With effect from Admission, the Company has adopted a share dealing policy regulating trading and confidentiality of inside information for the Directors and other persons discharging managerial responsibilities (and their closely associated persons) which is compliant with Rule 21 of the AIM Rules for Companies and MAR and contains provisions appropriate for a company whose shares are admitted to trading on AIM. The Company will take all reasonable steps to ensure compliance by the Directors, persons discharging managerial responsibilities and their closely associated persons with the terms of the policy.

Admission, Settlement and Dealing

Admission is expected to take place, and dealings in the Ordinary Shares are expected to commence on AIM, at 8:00 am on 10 August 2017. These dates and times may change.

CREST is a paperless settlement procedure enabling securities to be evidenced otherwise than by a certificate and transferred otherwise than by a written instrument. The Articles permit the holding of Ordinary Shares under the CREST system. The Company has applied for the Existing Ordinary Shares and the Placing Shares to be admitted to CREST with effect from Admission. Accordingly, settlement of transactions in the Existing Ordinary Shares and the Placing Shares held in uncertificated form following Admission will take place within the CREST system.

CREST is a voluntary system and holders of Ordinary Shares who wish to receive and retain share certificates will be able to do so.

All Placing Shares and Subscription Shares will be issued payable in full at the Issue Price. It is intended that, definitive share certificates in respect of the Subscription Shares and, if applicable in respect of the Placing Shares, will be distributed by 24 August 2017 or as soon thereafter as is practicable. No temporary documents of title will be issued.

Additional Information

Your attention is drawn to the information included in Parts II to V of this document. In particular, you are advised to carefully consider the risk factors contained in Part II of this document.

PART II

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Ordinary Shares involves a high degree of risk. Accordingly, prospective investors should carefully consider the specific risks set out below in addition to all of the other information set out in this document before investing in the Ordinary Shares. An investment in the Ordinary Shares may not be suitable for all recipients of this document. Potential investors are accordingly advised to consult a professional adviser duly authorised under FSMA who specialises in advising on the acquisition of shares and other securities before making any investment decision. A prospective investor should consider carefully whether an investment in the Company is suitable in the light of his or her personal circumstances and the financial resources available to him or her.

The Directors believe the following risks to be the most significant for potential investors. However, the risks listed do not necessarily comprise all those associated with an investment in the Company and are not set out in any particular order of priority. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to the Directors, or which the Directors currently deem immaterial, may also have an adverse effect on the Group and the information set out below does not purport to be an exhaustive summary of the risks affecting the Group. In particular, the Company's performance may be affected by changes in market or economic conditions and in legal, regulatory and tax requirements. If any of the following risks were to materialise, the Company's business, financial condition, results or future operations could be materially adversely affected. In such cases, the market price of the Ordinary Shares could decline and an investor may lose part or all of his or her investment.

Risks specific to the Group

Early stage business with no track record of revenue and profit generation

On Admission, the Group will hold interests in three businesses which have no track record of revenue and profit generation. It is possible that the Group's management team will not be able to develop these businesses in accordance with its plans or within its expected timeline or that it will be able to find sufficient demand for the products it expects to produce or that it will be able to generate profits from the sale of these products. Any failure or delays in implementing the Group's management team business plan could materially affect the Group's business, financial condition, results or future operations.

Dependence on key executives and personnel

The Group's development and prospects are dependent upon the continued services and performance of its Directors, senior management and other key personnel. The loss of the services of any of the Directors, senior management or key personnel or a substantial number of talented employees, could cause disruption or the loss of experience, skills or customer relationships of such personnel, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations until a suitable replacement is found. Should the Group be unable to attract new employees with the requisite skills to continue to grow and develop its businesses, this could have a material adverse effect on the Group's ability to grow or maintain its businesses.

Intellectual property and know-how

The Group's success will depend in part on its ability to maintain adequate protection of its intellectual property, covering its processes and applications. The intellectual property on which the Group's business is based is a combination of patents, licences and proprietary know-how. No assurance can be given that any future patent applications will result in granted patents, that any patents will be granted on a timely basis, that the scope of any patent protection will exclude competitors or provide competitive advantages to the Group, that any of the Group's patents will be held valid if challenged, or that third parties will not claim rights in, or ownership of, the patents and other proprietary rights held by the Group.

The Group's patents can be challenged both in the relevant patent office and in the courts by third parties. Third parties can bring material and arguments which the patent office granting the patent may not have seen. Therefore, issued patents may be found by a court of law or by the patent office to be invalid or unenforceable or in need of further restriction.

A substantial cost may be incurred if the Group is required to assert its intellectual property rights, including any patents, against third parties. Patent litigation is costly and time consuming and there can be no assurance that the Group will have, or will be able to devote, sufficient resources to pursue such litigation. Potentially unfavourable outcomes in such proceedings could limit the Group's intellectual property rights and activities. There is no assurance that obligations to maintain the Group's or partners' know-how would not be breached or otherwise become known in a manner which provides the Group with no recourse.

Any claims made against the Group's intellectual property rights, even without merit, could be time consuming and expensive to defend and could have a materially detrimental effect on the Group's resources. A third party asserting infringement claims against the Group and its customers could require the Group to cease the infringing activity and/or require the Group to enter into licensing and royalty arrangements. The third party could also take legal action which could be costly to defend. There can be no assurance that such claims would not have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition or results.

Potential requirement for further investment

Any future expansion, activity and/or business development may require additional capital. There can be no guarantee that the necessary funds will be available on a timely basis, on favourable terms, or at all, or that such funds, if raised, would be sufficient. If additional funds are raised by issuing equity securities, dilution to the then existing shareholdings may result. If the Group is not able to obtain additional capital on acceptable terms, or at all, it may be forced to curtail or abandon such planned expansion, activity and/or business development.

Manufacturing problems could result in delays in product shipments to customers and could adversely affect the Group's revenue, competitive position and reputation

The Group may experience delays, disruptions or quality control problems in its manufacturing operations as its product development, manufacturing and testing processes are complex and require significant technological and production process expertise.

Such processes involve a number of precise steps from design to production. Any change in the Group's processes could cause one or more production errors, requiring a temporary suspension or delay in the Group's production line until the errors can be researched, identified and properly addressed and rectified. This may occur particularly as the Group introduces new products, modify the Group's engineering and production techniques, and/or expands its capacity. In addition, if the Group fails to maintain appropriate quality assurance processes, the result may be increased product failures, loss of customers, increased production costs and delays. Any of these developments could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Group's reputation

The Group's reputation is central to its future success, in terms of the services and products it provides, the way in which it conducts its business, wins and retains key customers, and the financial results which it achieves. Failure to meet the expectations of its clients, suppliers, employees, shareholders and other business partners may have a material adverse effect on the Group's reputation and future revenue, and may be exploited by the Group's competition.

Intense competition in the industry will affect the Group's pricing and its profit margins

The industries in which the Group operates in are competitive and involve rapidly changing technology dominated by much larger heavy industrial plant manufacturing companies. Intense competition will exert negative influence on the Group's pricing and erode its profit margins. Should existing or new competitors offer products similar to the Group's at a lower cost or engage in aggressive pricing in order to increase or gain market share, the Group's sales may decline if it is not able to match their lower costs. This will have a material adverse effect on the Group's business.

The international nature of the Group's operations makes it susceptible to changes in the political and legal systems of the countries in which the Group operates

Although political conditions in the countries in which the Group operates are generally stable, changes may occur in the political and legal systems which might affect the operation of the Group's interests which may in turn materially and adversely affect the Group's financial position. These risks include terrorism, arbitrary influence with private ownership of contract rights, changes in legislation, extreme fluctuations in currency exchange rates, higher rates in inflation and changes to exchange controls and other laws or policies affecting foreign trade and investment.

Risks relating to the current management's ability to manage its subsidiary companies abroad

The Group's future success will depend, in part, on its ability to manage its subsidiary companies in overseas countries. The process of managing overseas subsidiary companies may give rise to unforeseen operating difficulties and expenditures and may absorb significant attention of the Group's management, support functions, accounting, sales and marketing and other resources. If the Group's current management is unable to successfully manage the Group's subsidiary companies abroad, this could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

As the Company owns less than the entire equity interest in its operating subsidiaries, its decision-making authority to implement its strategy may be disputed by third party minority shareholders.

As the Company owns less than the entire equity interest in its operating subsidiaries, the remaining ownership interest will be held by third parties. Accordingly, the Company's decision-making authority may be limited. Such third parties may have interests which are inconsistent or conflict with the Company's interests, or may obstruct the Company's strategy for the subsidiary or propose an alternative strategy. Any third party's interests may be contrary to the Company's interests. In addition, disputes among the Company and any such third parties could result in litigation or arbitration. Any of these events could impair the Company's objectives and strategy, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

General risks

Economic conditions and current economic weakness

Any economic downturn, either globally or locally in any area in which the Group operates, may have an adverse effect on demand for the Group's products. A more prolonged economic downturn may lead to an overall decline in the volume of the Group's sales, restricting the Group's ability to realise a profit. In addition, although signs of economic recovery have been perceptible in certain countries, the sustainability of a global economic upturn is not yet assured. If economic conditions remain uncertain, the Group might see lower levels of growth than in the past, which might have an adverse impact on the Group's operations and business results.

Force majeure

The Group's operations, now or in the future, may be adversely affected by risks outside the control of the Group, including but not limited to: labour unrest, civil disorder, war, subversive activities or sabotage, fires, floods, explosions or other catastrophes, epidemics or quarantine restrictions.

AIM

AIM securities are not admitted to the Official List. An investment in shares quoted on AIM may carry a higher risk than an investment in shares quoted on the Official List. AIM has been in existence since June 1995 but its future success, and liquidity in the market for the Company's securities, cannot be guaranteed.

AIM is a market designed primarily for emerging or smaller companies to which a higher investment risk tends to be attached rather than for larger or more established companies. A prospective investor should be aware of the risks of investing in such companies and should make the decision to invest only after careful consideration and, if appropriate, consultation with an independent financial adviser duly authorised under FSMA who specialises in advising on the acquisition of shares and other securities.

Investment risk

An investment in a share which is traded on AIM, such as the Ordinary Shares, may be difficult to realise and carries a high degree of risk. The ability of an investor to sell Ordinary Shares will depend on there being a willing buyer for them at an acceptable price. Consequently, it might be difficult for an investor to realise his or her investment in the Group and he or she may lose all of his or her investment.

Investors should be aware that, following Admission, the market price of the Ordinary Shares may be volatile and may go down as well as up and investors may therefore be unable to recover their original investment and could even lose their entire investment. This volatility could be attributable to various facts and events, including the availability of information for determining the market value of the Ordinary Shares, any regulatory or economic changes affecting the Group's operations, variations in the Group's operating results, developments in the Group's business or its competitors, or changes in market sentiment towards the Ordinary Shares. In addition, the Group's operating results and prospects from time to time may be below the expectations of market analysts and investors.

Market conditions may affect the Ordinary Shares regardless of the Group's operating performance or the overall performance of the sector in which the Group operates. Share market conditions are affected by many factors, including general economic outlook, movements in or outlook on interest rates and inflation rates, currency fluctuations, commodity prices, changes in investor sentiment towards particular market sectors and the demand and supply for capital. Accordingly, the market price of the Ordinary Shares may not reflect the underlying value of the Group's net assets, and the price at which investors may dispose of their Ordinary Shares at any point in time may be influenced by a number of factors, only some of which may pertain to the Group while others of which may be outside the Group's control.

If the Group's revenues do not grow, or grow more slowly than anticipated, or if its operating or capital expenditures exceed expectations and cannot be adjusted sufficiently, the market price of its Ordinary Shares may decline. In addition, if the market for securities of companies in the same sector or the stock market in general experiences a loss in investor confidence or otherwise falls, the market price of the Ordinary Shares may fall for reasons unrelated to the Group's business, results of operations or financial condition. Therefore, investors might be unable to resell their Ordinary Shares at or above the Issue Price.

Liquidity

Subsequent to Admission the Group can give no assurance that an active trading market for the Ordinary Shares will develop, or if such a market develops, that it will be sustained. If an active trading market does not develop or is not maintained, the liquidity and trading price of the Ordinary Shares could be adversely affected and investors may have difficulty selling their Ordinary Shares. The market price of the Ordinary Shares may drop. Any investment in the Ordinary Shares should be viewed as a long-term investment.

A number of new standards and amendments to standards and interpretations have been issued but are not yet effective and in some cases have not yet been adopted by the EU.

The directors do not expect that the adoption of these standards will have a material impact on the financial statements of the company in future periods, except that IFRS 9 will impact both the measurement and disclosures of financial instruments, IFRS 15 may have an impact on revenue recognition and related disclosures and IFRS 16 will impact the treatment of an operating leases and its presentation. At this point it is not practicable for the directors to provide a reasonable estimate of the effect of IFRS 9, IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 as their detailed review of these standards is still ongoing.

4. Significant Accounting Policies

4.1 Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated by the directors and management and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. The estimates and judgements that affect the application of the company’s accounting policies and disclosures, and have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses are discussed below:-

(a) Depreciation of Property, Plant and Equipment

The estimates for the residual values, useful lives and related depreciation charges for the property, plant and equipment are based on commercial factors which could change significantly as a result of technical innovations and competitors’ actions in response to the market conditions. Changes in the expected level of usage and technological development could impact the economic useful lives and the residual values of these assets, therefore future depreciation charges could be revised.

(b) Leases

The company holds certain assets under finance leases and hire purchase agreements. Finance leases and hire purchase agreements, which transfer to the company substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the leased item, are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the fair value of the leased item or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. Any initial direct costs are also added to the amount capitalised. Lease payments are apportioned between the finance charges and reduction of the lease liability so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance charges are charged directly to profit or loss. Capitalised lease assets are depreciated over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the asset or the lease term, if there is no reasonable certainty that the company will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term.

The company also utilises operating leases. Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term, except where another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

4.2 Functional and Foreign Currencies

(a) Functional and Presentation Currency

The financial information is presented in the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates, which is the functional currency.

The financial information is presented in Euros, which is the company's functional currency and the presentation currency.

(b) Transactions and Balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are converted into the respective functional currencies on initial recognition, using the exchange rates approximating those ruling at the transaction dates. Monetary assets and liabilities at the end of the reporting period are translated at the rates ruling as of that date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated using exchange rates that existed when the values were determined. All exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss.

4.3 Financial Instruments

Financial instruments are recognised in the statements of financial position when the company has become a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial instruments are classified as liabilities or equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement. Interest, dividends, gains and losses relating to a financial instrument classified as a liability are reported as an expense or income. Distributions to holders of financial instruments classified as equity are charged directly to equity.

Financial instruments are offset when the company has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends to settle either on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

A financial instrument is recognised initially at its fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial instrument (other than a financial instrument at fair value through profit or loss) are added to/deducted from the fair value on initial recognition, as appropriate. Transaction costs on the financial instrument at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Financial instruments recognised in the statements of financial position are disclosed in the individual policy statement associated with each item.

(a) Financial Assets

On initial recognition, financial assets are classified as either financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, held-to-maturity investments, loans and receivables financial assets, or available-for-sale financial assets, as appropriate.

Trade receivables and other receivables that have fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market are classified as loans and receivables financial assets. Loans and receivables financial assets are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment loss. Interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate, except for short-term receivables when the recognition of interest would be immaterial.

(b) Financial Liabilities

All financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method other than those categorised as fair value through profit or loss.

Fair value through profit or loss category comprises financial liabilities that are either held for trading or are designated to eliminate or significantly reduce a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would otherwise arise. Derivatives are also classified as held for trading unless they are designated as hedges.

(c) Equity Instruments

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new ordinary shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from proceeds.

Dividends on ordinary shares are recognised as liabilities when approved for appropriation.

(d) Derecognition

A financial asset or part of it is derecognised when, and only when, the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or the financial asset is transferred to another party without retaining control or substantially all risks and rewards of the asset. On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) and any cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised in equity is recognised in profit or loss.

A financial liability or a part of it is derecognised when, and only when, the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires. On derecognition of a financial liability, the difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or loss.

4.4 Property, Plant and Equipment

(a) Owned Assets

Items of property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost of an asset comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to the location and condition for its intended use.

(b) Depreciation

Depreciation is charged to profit or loss once an asset has been brought into use (unless it is included in the carrying amount of another asset) on the straight-line basis to write off the depreciable amount of the assets net of the estimated residual values over their estimated useful lives. Depreciation of an asset does not cease when the asset becomes idle or is retired from active use unless the asset is fully depreciated. The principal annual rates used for this purpose are:-

	Estimated Useful Lives	Estimated Residual Value as a Percentage of Cost
Plant and machinery	5 years	10%
Fixture and fittings	10 years	20%

The depreciation method, useful lives and residual values are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period to ensure that the amounts, method and periods of depreciation are consistent with previous estimates and the expected pattern of consumption of the future economic benefits embodied in the items of the property, plant and equipment.

No depreciation has been charged in the period as the assets had not been brought into use until after the end of the period.

(c) Depreciation

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when the cost is incurred and it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the asset will flow to the company and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of parts that are replaced is derecognised. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in profit or loss as incurred. Cost also comprises the initial estimate of dismantling and removing the asset and restoring the site on which it is located for which the company is obligated to incur when the asset is acquired, if applicable.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. Any gain or loss arising from derecognition of the asset is recognised in profit or loss. The revaluation reserve included in equity is transferred directly to retained profits on retirement or disposal of the asset.

4.5 Revenue Recognition

Greenflex RSM S.r.l. is yet to generate revenue.

4.6 Income Taxes

The company has been granted a five year exemption from tax for profits generated in the Republic of San Marino.

4.7 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash in hand, bank balances, demand deposits, bank overdrafts and short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value with original maturity periods of three months or less. They include amounts currently held in cash by the company's parent company on behalf of the company.

4.8 Related Parties

A party is related to an entity (referred to as the "reporting entity") if:-

- (a) A person or a close member of that person's family is related to a reporting entity if that person:-
- (i) has control or joint control over the reporting entity;
  - (ii) has significant influence over the reporting entity; or
  - (iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the reporting entity or of a parent of the reporting entity.

  - (iii) Both entities are joint ventures of the same third party.

- (iv) One entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity.

- (vi) The entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a) above.
- (vii) A person identified in (a)(i) above has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).

Close members of the family of a person are those family members who may be expected to influence, or be influenced by, that person in their dealings with the entity.

4.9 Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using a valuation technique. The measurement assumes that the transaction takes place either in the principal market or in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market. For non-financial asset, the fair value measurement takes into account a market's participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

For financial reporting purposes, the fair value measurements are analysed into level 1 to level 3 as follows:-

Level 1: Inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liability that the entity can access at the measurement date;

Level 2: Inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and

Level 3: Inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. The transfer of fair value between levels is determined as of the date of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

It has an obligation to pay all of its trade payables by 31 January 2017 and to repay all of its loans of €382,000 together with interest on these loans by 11 April 2017.

The Directors present their non-statutory financial information of Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC for each of the three years ended 31 December 2016.

2. Principal Activities

Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC is undertaking the research and development of an absorber and contactor that will aid carbon capture.

3. Basis of Preparation

The financial information has been prepared in accordance with IFRS as adopted by the EU issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”), including related Interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (“IFRIC”).

Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC has not applied in advance any of the accounting standards and interpretations (including the consequential amendments, if any) that have been issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) but are not yet effective for the current financial period.

The directors do not expect the adoption of any of the standards to have a material impact on the financial statements of Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC in future periods except that IFRS 9 will impact both the measurement and disclosure of financial instruments in future periods.

The above accounting standards and interpretations (including the consequential amendments) are not relevant to Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC’s operations.

4. Significant Accounting Policies

4.1 Critical accounting estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated by the directors and management and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. The estimates and judgements that affect the application of Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC’s accounting policies and disclosures, and have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses are discussed below:-

(a) Going concern

The financial information has been prepared on the going concern basis of preparation.

The company’s business is in the early stages of its development and to date has not begun to generate revenues. The business is therefore dependent on the availability of further funding to enable the financing of future development expenditure and to provide working capital. As part of the financial reporting process the directors carry out a detailed assessment of going concern for a period of at least 12 months from the date of approval of financial information, taking into consideration a number of matters including forecast cash flows, medium and long term business plans and expectations and the availability of funding. The Directors have assessed that they have raised sufficient funding to cover their current and future capital needs. On the basis of their assessment, the directors have concluded that it is appropriate to prepare the financial information on a going concern basis.

(b) Depreciation of property, plant and equipment

The estimates for the residual values, useful lives and related depreciation charges for the property, plant and equipment are based on commercial factors which could change significantly as a result of technical innovations and competitors' actions in response to the market conditions. Changes in the expected level of usage and technological development could impact the economic useful lives and the residual values of these assets, therefore future depreciation charges could be revised.

(c) Income taxes

There are certain transactions and computations for which the ultimate tax determination may be different from the initial estimate. Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC recognises tax liabilities based on its understanding of the prevailing tax laws and estimates of whether such taxes will be due in the ordinary course of business. Where the final outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recognised, such difference will impact the income tax and deferred tax provisions in the year in which such determination is made.

4.2 Functional and foreign currencies

(a) Functional and presentation currency

The financial information is presented in the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates, which is the functional currency. The financial information is presented in US Dollars, which is Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC's functional currency and the presentation currency.

(b) Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are converted into the respective functional currencies on initial recognition, using the exchange rates approximating those ruling at the transaction dates. Monetary assets and liabilities at the end of the reporting period are translated at the rates ruling as of that date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated using exchange rates that existed when the values were determined. All exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss.

4.3 Financial instruments

Financial instruments are recognised in the statements of financial position when Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC has become a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial instruments are classified as liabilities or equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement. Interest, dividends, gains and losses relating to a financial instrument classified as a liability are reported as an expense or income. Distributions to holders of financial instruments classified as equity are charged directly to equity.

Financial instruments are offset when Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends to settle either on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

A financial instrument is recognised initially at its fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial instrument (other than a financial instrument at fair value through profit or loss) are added to/deducted from the fair value on initial recognition, as appropriate. Transaction costs on the financial instrument at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Financial instruments recognised in the statements of financial position are disclosed in the individual policy statement associated with each item.

(a) Financial assets

On initial recognition, financial assets are classified as either financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, held-to-maturity investments, loans and receivables financial assets, or available-for-sale financial assets, as appropriate.

(i) Loans and receivables financial assets

Trade receivables and other receivables that have fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market are classified as loans and receivables financial assets. Loans and receivables financial assets are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment loss. Interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate, except for short-term receivables when the recognition of interest would be immaterial.

(b) Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method other than those categorised as fair value through profit or loss.

Fair value through profit or loss category comprises financial liabilities that are either held for trading or are designated to eliminate or significantly reduce a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would otherwise arise. Derivatives are also classified as held for trading unless they are designated as hedges.

(c) Equity instruments

Ordinary membership units are classified as members' interests and have characteristics similar to equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new ordinary membership units or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from proceeds.

(d) De-recognition

A financial asset or part of it is derecognised when, and only when, the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or the financial asset is transferred to another party without retaining control or substantially all risks and rewards of the asset. On de-recognition of a financial asset, the difference between the carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) and any cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised in equity is recognised in profit or loss.

A financial liability or a part of it is derecognised when, and only when, the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires. On de-recognition of a financial liability, the difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or loss.

4.4 Property, plant and equipment

(a) Owned assets

Items of property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost of an asset comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to the location and condition for its intended use.

(b) Depreciation

Depreciation is charged to profit or loss (unless it is included in the carrying amount of another asset) on the straight-line basis to write off the depreciable amount of the assets net of the estimated residual values over their estimated useful lives. Depreciation of an asset does not cease when the asset becomes idle or is retired from active use unless the asset is fully depreciated. The principal annual rates used for this purpose are:-

	Depreciated over
Fixture and fittings	7 years
Computer software	3 years

The depreciation method, useful lives and residual values are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period to ensure that the amounts, method and periods of depreciation are consistent with previous estimates and the expected pattern of consumption of the future economic benefits embodied in the items of the property, plant and equipment.

(a) Cost

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when the cost is incurred and it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the asset will flow to Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of parts that are replaced is derecognised. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in profit or loss as incurred. Cost also comprises the initial estimate of dismantling and removing the asset and restoring the site on which it is located for which Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC is obligated to incur when the asset is acquired, if applicable.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. Any gain or loss arising from derecognition of the asset is recognised in profit or loss. The revaluation reserve included in equity is transferred directly to retained profits on retirement or disposal of the asset.

4.5 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash in hand, bank balances, demand deposits, bank overdrafts and short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value with original maturity periods of three months or less.

4.6 Revenue and other income

(a) Sale of goods

Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC is yet to generate revenue.

(b) Other income

Other income is recognised on an accrual basis using the effective interest method.

4.7 Research and development costs

Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC's research and development is dependent on the level of funding received at any given time. Such expenses have included salaries and other expenditure directly attributable to Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC's research and development activities. Furthermore, costs attributable to supporting the research and development activities, such as overheads in relation to payroll, are included. Research and development expenses are directly related to the development phase of Westec Environmental Solutions LLC's projects and may therefore fluctuate strongly from year to year.

The Company has not capitalised internal development expenses relating to the Company's projects as management considers that the uncertainties inherent in developing such technological products prohibits the capitalisation of internal development expense as an intangible asset until marketing approval has been received and commerciality is near certain. The Directors are of the opinion that commerciality and marketing approval are not expected in near future.

5. Operating Segments

Westec Environmental Solutions, LLC comprises of one operating segment and therefore segmental analysis is not required.

Placing Shares to be held through CREST will be credited to CREST accounts on Admission. The Articles, which have been adopted, permit the holding of Ordinary Shares in CREST.
- 5.22. The provisions of section 561 of the 2006 Act (which, to the extent not disapplied pursuant to section 570 of the 2006 Act, confer on shareholders rights of pre-emption in respect of the allotment of equity securities (as defined in section 560(1) of the 2006 Act) which are, or are to be, paid up in cash (other than any allotments to employees under an employees' share option scheme)) apply to the unissued share capital of the Company except to the extent already disapplied.

- 5.23. No Ordinary Shares are held in treasury. No Ordinary Shares are currently in issue with a fixed date on which entitlement to a dividend arises and there are no arrangements in force whereby future dividends are waived or agreed to be waived.
- 5.24. The New Ordinary Shares will rank in full for all dividends or other distributions hereafter declared, paid or made on the ordinary share capital of the Company.
- 5.25. There are no pre-emption rights (other than statutory pre-emption rights under the 2006 Act), redemption provisions or conversion provisions attaching to the Ordinary Shares.
- 5.26. There are no listed or unlisted securities of the Company not representing Ordinary Share capital.
- 5.27. Other than the current application for admission to AIM, the Ordinary Shares are not being admitted to dealings on any recognised investment exchange nor has any application for such admission been made nor are there intended to be any other arrangements in place for there to be such dealings in the Ordinary Shares.

6. Articles

- 6.1. As described in paragraph 2.2 of this Part V, the Company has recently adopted new Articles. The Articles contain, inter alia, the provisions set out below. This description does not purport to be complete and is qualified entirely by the full terms of the Articles, a copy of which will be available on the Company's website from Admission.

6.2. Shares

6.2.1. Shares

The Company has one class of share capital being the Ordinary Shares

6.2.2. Share rights

Without prejudice to the rights attaching to any existing shares or class of shares, any share may be issued with such preferred, deferred or other special rights or such restrictions as the Company may from time to time by ordinary resolution determine or, if the Company has not so determined, as the Directors may determine.

6.2.3. Voting

At a general meeting of the Company, subject to any special rights or restrictions attached to any class of shares, on a show of hands every member present in person or by proxy has one vote, and on a poll every member present in person or by proxy has one vote for every share held by him. No shareholder will be entitled to vote at a general meeting or any separate meeting of the holders of any class of shares in the Company in respect of any share held by him unless all moneys presently owed to the Company have been paid.

6.2.4. Dividends

The Company may, by ordinary resolution, declare dividends to be paid to shareholders, but the amount of such dividends may not exceed the amount recommended by the Directors. If the Directors believe the dividends are justified by the profits of the Company available for distribution, they may pay interim dividends. The Board may also pay at intervals settled by it any dividend payable at a fixed rate if it appears to the Board that the profits available for distribution justify the payment. Provided the Directors act in good faith they shall not incur any liability to the holders of shares conferring preferred rights for any loss they may suffer by the lawful payment of interim dividends on any shares having deferred or non-preferred rights. Unless the share rights otherwise provide, all dividends shall be declared and paid pro rata according to the amounts paid on the shares on which the dividend is paid during any portion or portions of the period in respect of which the dividend is paid. Any dividend unclaimed for 12 years from the date on which it became due for payment shall, of the Directors so resolve, be forfeited and shall revert to the Company. The Directors may, if authorised by ordinary resolution, offer to any holders of shares the right to receive, in lieu of dividend, an allotment of new Ordinary Shares credited as fully paid.

6.2.5. Transfer of shares

Subject to the Articles, any member may transfer all or any of his or her certified shares in writing by an instrument of transfer in any usual form or in any other form which the board may approve. The board may, in its absolute discretion, decline to register any instrument of transfer of a certified share which is not a fully paid share or on which the Company has a lien, provided that where any such shares are admitted to AIM, such discretion may not be exercised in such a way as to prevent dealings in the shares of that class from taking place on an open and proper basis in accordance with the 2006 Act, the Takeover Code, the AIM Rules for Companies, the CREST Regulations and every other statute (including any orders, regulations or other subordinate legislation made under them) for the time being in force concerning companies and affecting the Company (including, without limitation, the Electronic Communications Act). The Board may decline to recognise any instrument of transfer relating to shares in certificated form unless it is in respect of only one class of share, is in favour of not more than four transferees and it is lodged (duly stamped) at the registered office of the Company or at such other place as the Board may appoint accompanied by the relevant share certificate(s) to which it relates and such other evidence as the board may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer. In the case of a transfer of shares in certificated form by a recognised clearing house or a nominee of a recognised clearing house or of a recognised investment exchange, the lodgement of share certificates will only be necessary if and to the extent that certificates have been issued in respect of the shares in question. Subject to the Articles and the rules (as defined in the CREST Regulations), and apart from any class of wholly dematerialised security, the Board may permit any class of shares in the Company to be held in uncertificated form and, subject to the Articles, title to uncertificated shares to be transferred by means of a relevant system.

6.2.6. Sanctions on Shareholders

Section 793 of the 2006 Act confers on public companies the power to require information from members as to interests in voting shares. If at any time the Board is satisfied that any member, or any other person appearing to be interested in shares held by such member, has been duly served with a notice under Section 793 of the 2006 Act and is in default for a period of 28 days in supplying to the Company the information thereby required, or, in purported compliance with such a notice, has made a statement which is false or inadequate in a material particular, then the board may, in its absolute discretion at any time thereafter by notice to such member direct that:

- (a) in respect the shares in relation to which the default occurred (the “default shares”) the member shall not be entitled to vote at any shareholders’ meeting either in person or by proxy or exercise and other right conferred by membership in relation to meetings of the Company; and
- (b) where the default shares represent 0.25 per cent. or more of the total number of shares of a relevant class less any shares of that class held in treasury by the Company that:
  - (i) except in a liquidation of the Company, no payment shall be made of any sums due from the Company on the default shares, whether in respect of capital or dividend or otherwise, and the Company shall not meet any liability to pay interest on any such payment when it is finally paid to the member;
  - (ii) no other distribution shall be made on the default shares; and
  - (iii) no transfer of any of the shares held by such member shall be registered unless:
    - 1. the member is not himself in default as regards supplying the information requested and the transfer when presented for registration is accompanied by a certificate by the member in such form as the board may in its absolute discretion require to the effect that after due and careful enquiry the member is satisfied that no person in default as regards supplying such information is interested in any of the shares the subject of the transfer; or

2. the transfer is an approved transfer.

6.2.7. Variation of rights

Where the share capital of the Company is divided into different classes of shares, the special rights attached to any class may, subject to the provisions of the 2006 Act, the CREST Regulations, the AIM Rules for Companies or any other relevant statute or statutory instrument, law or regulation be varied or abrogated either with the written consent of the holders of three-quarters in nominal value of the issued shares of the class or with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of the shares of the class and may be so varied or abrogated either whilst the Company is a going concern or during or in contemplation of a winding up. At every such general meeting the necessary quorum shall be two or more persons holding or representing by proxy (which proxies are authorised to exercise voting rights) not less than one-third in nominal value of the issued shares of the class (excluding any shares of that class held in treasury) (but so that at an adjourned meeting any holder of shares of the class present in person or by proxy shall be a quorum).

6.2.8. Alteration of share capital

The Company may by ordinary resolution alter its share capital in accordance with the 2006 Act. The Company may, by special resolution, reduce its share capital or any share premium account or capital redemption reserve.

6.2.9. Directors' power to allot

Subject to the provisions of the Articles and to the 2006 Act, any unissued shares in the capital of the Company (whether forming part of the original or any increased capital) and all (if any) shares in the Company lawfully held by or on behalf of it shall be at the disposal of the Board which may offer, allot (with or without a right of renunciation), issue or grant options over such shares to such persons, at such time and for such consideration and upon such terms and conditions as the Board may determine.

6.2.10. Untraced Shareholders

Subject to the 2006 Act, the CREST Regulations, the AIM Rules for Companies or any other relevant statute or statutory instrument, law or regulation, the Company may sell any shares of a member or the shares of a person entitled thereto who is untraceable, if during a period of 12 years, at least three dividends in respect of the shares in question have become payable and the cheques or warrants for all amounts payable to such member or person in respect of his shares have remained uncashed or mandated dividend payments have failed and the Company has received no communication from such member or person. The net proceeds of sale shall belong to the Company but the member or person who had been entitled to the shares shall become a creditor of the Company in respect of those proceeds. If on three consecutive occasions notices sent to a member have been returned undelivered, such member shall not thereafter be entitled to receive notices from the Company until he shall have communicated with the Company and supplied in writing to the Transfer Office a new registered address or a postal address within the United Kingdom for the service of notices or shall have informed the Company, in such manner as may be specified by the Company, of an address for the service of notices by electronic communication.

6.2.11. Non-UK Shareholders

There are no limitations in the Articles on the rights of non-UK shareholders to hold, or exercise voting rights attaching to, Ordinary Shares. However, no shareholder is entitled to receive notices from the Company (whether electronically or otherwise), including notices of general meetings, unless he has given a postal address in the UK or an address for the service of notices by electronic communication to the Company to which such notices may be sent.

6.2.12. Return of Capital

On a winding up or other return of capital, the holders of Ordinary Shares are entitled pari passu amongst themselves, in proportion to the number of shares held by them and to the amounts paid up or credited as paid up thereon, to share in the whole of any surplus assets of the Company remaining after the discharge of its liabilities.

6.2.13. Liquidation

If the Company is in liquidation, the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution of the Company:

- (a) divide among the members in specie the whole or part of the assets of the Company; or
- (b) vest the whole or any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of members as the liquidator, with the like authority, shall think fit.

6.2.14. Pre-emption Rights

There are no rights of pre-emption under the Articles of the Company in respect of transfers of issued Ordinary Shares. In certain circumstances, the Company's shareholders may have statutory pre-emption rights under the 2006 Act in respect of the allotment of new shares in the Company. These statutory pre-emption rights would require the Company to offer new shares for allotment to existing shareholders on a pro rata basis before allotting them to other persons. In such circumstances, the procedure for the exercise of such statutory pre-emption rights would be set out in the documentation by which such shares would be offered to the Company's shareholders.

6.3. General meetings

6.3.1. Annual General Meetings

An annual general meeting shall be held once in every year, at such time and place as may be determined by the Directors. An annual general meeting shall be called by not less than 21 clear days' written notice.

6.3.2. General Meetings

- (a) The Board may call general meetings whenever it thinks fit and on receipt of a requisition of members pursuant to the 2006 Act.
- (b) An AGM shall be called by notice of at least 21 clear days. All other general meetings shall be called by at least the minimum number of days' notice permissible under the 2006 Act.
- (c) A notice of meeting shall be given to each member of the Company (other than any who, under the Articles or the terms of an allotment or issue of shares, is not entitled to receive notice), to the Directors and to the Company's auditors. Notices covering general meetings shall specify the place and time of the meeting, shall specify the general notice of the business to be transacted at the meeting, and if any resolutions are to be proposed as a special resolution, the notice shall contain a statement to that effect.
- (d) No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum is present. Two members present in person or by proxy and entitled to vote shall be a quorum. The absence of a quorum does not prevent appointment of a chairman in accordance with the Articles, which shall not be treated as part of the business of the meeting.

- (e) Each Director shall be entitled to attend and speak at a general meeting and at a separate meeting of the holders of a class of shares, whether or not he is a member.
- (f) A resolution put to the vote of a general meeting shall be decided on a show of hands unless, before or on the declaration of the result of a vote on the show of hands or on the withdrawal of any other demand for a poll, a poll is duly demanded. Subject to the provisions of the 2006 Act, a poll may be demanded by the chairman of the meeting; by not less than two members present in person or by proxy entitled to vote at the meeting by any member or members present in person or by proxy and representing not less than one-tenth of the total voting rights of all members having the right to vote at the meeting; or by any member or members present in person or by proxy holding shares conferring a right to vote at the meeting shares on which an aggregate sum has been paid up equal to not less than one-tenth of the total sum paid up on all the shares conferring that right.
- (g) A member is entitled to appoint another person as his proxy by notice in writing to the Company. A member may appoint more than one proxy to attend on the same occasion and may appoint different proxies to exercise the rights attaching to different shares held by him. A company which is a member of the Company may, by resolution of its Directors or other governing body or by authority to be given under seal or under the hand of an officer duly authorised by it), authorise such a person as it thinks fit to act as its representative at a meeting of the Company or at any separate meeting of the holders of any class of shares.

6.3.3. Communications with shareholders

If notice of meeting is sent in electronic form the Company must have complied with all applicable regulatory requirements and the person entitled to receive such notice must have agreed that the notice can be sent to him in that way and not revoked that agreement or, in the case of a company, be deemed to have agreed to receive notice in that way by a provision in the 2006 Act. Provided that the Company has complied with all applicable legal requirements the Company may send or supply a notice of meeting by making it available on a website.

6.4. Directors

6.4.1. Appointment and replacement of Directors

Directors shall be no less than two and shall not be subject to any maximum in number. Directors may be appointed by the Company by ordinary resolution or by the Board. A Director appointed by the Board holds office only until the next following annual general meeting and shall not be taken into account in determining the Directors who are to retire by rotation at the meeting. At every AGM one-third of the Directors who are subject to retirement by rotation or, if their number is not three or a multiple of three, the number nearest to, but greater than, one-third shall retire from office; but, if there is only one Director who is subject to retirement by rotation, he shall retire. The Directors to retire by rotation shall be those who have been longest in office since their last appointment or re-appointment, but as between persons who became or were last re-appointed Directors on the same day those to retire shall (unless they otherwise agree among themselves) be determined by lot. The Board may from time to time appoint one or more Directors to hold employment or executive office for such period (subject to the 2006 Act) and on such terms as they may determine and may revoke or terminate any such employment. The Company may by ordinary resolution of which special notice has been given remove any Director from office and elect another person in place of a Director so removed.

The office of Director shall be vacated if (i) he or she resigns (ii) an order is made by any court claiming that he or she is or may be suffering from a mental disorder, (iii) he or she is absent without permission of the Board from meetings for six months and the board resolves that his or her office is vacated, (iv) he or she becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with his or her creditors generally or shall apply to the court for an interim order under Section 253 of the Insolvency Act 1986 in connection with a voluntary arrangement under that act, (v) he or she ceases to be a Director by virtue of any provisions of the 2006 Act or these Articles or he or she is prohibited by law from being a Director, or (vi) he is requested to resign in writing by not less than three quarters of the other Directors.

6.4.2. Powers of the Directors

The business of the Company will be managed by the Board who may exercise all the powers of the Company, subject to the provisions of the Company's memorandum of association, the Articles, the 2006 Act and any special resolution of the Company.

6.4.3. Directors' Fees

Remuneration of Directors who do not hold executive office for their services (excluding amounts payable under any other provision of these Articles) are determined by the Directors except that they may not exceed £250,000 per annum in aggregate or such higher amount as may be determined by ordinary resolution of shareholders. Any Director who holds any executive office (including the office of chairman or deputy chairman), or who serves on any committee of the Directors, or who otherwise performs services which in the opinion of the Directors are outside the scope of the ordinary duties of a Director, may be paid extra remuneration by way of salary, commission or otherwise or may receive such other benefits as the Directors may determine.

6.4.4. Authorisation of Directors' interests

Subject to the provisions of the 2006 Act, and provided that he has disclosed to the board the nature and extent of any material interest of his, a Director notwithstanding his office:

- (a) may be a party to, or otherwise interested in, any transaction or arrangement with the Company or in which the Company is otherwise interested;
- (b) may act by himself or his firm in a professional capacity for the Company (otherwise than as auditor) and he or his firm shall be entitled to remuneration for professional services as if he were not a Director;
- (c) may be a Director or other officer of, or employed by, or a party to any transaction or arrangement with, or otherwise interested in, any body corporate promoted by the Company or in which the Company is otherwise interested; and
- (d) shall not, by reason of his office, be accountable to the Company for any benefit which he derives from any such office or employment or from any such transaction or arrangement or from any interest in any such body corporate and no such transaction or arrangement shall be liable to be avoided on the ground of any such interest or benefit.

6.4.5. Notification of Directors' interests

For the purposes of paragraph 6.4.4:

- (a) a general notice given to the board that a Director is to be regarded as having an interest of the nature and extent specified in the notice in any transaction or arrangement in which a specified person or class of persons is interested shall be deemed to be a disclosure that the Director has an interest in any such transaction of the nature and extent so specified; and
- (b) an interest of which a Director has no knowledge and of which it is unreasonable to expect him to have knowledge shall not be treated as an interest of his.

6.4.6. Exercise by Company of voting rights

The Board may exercise the voting power conferred by the shares in any body corporate held or owned by the Company in such manner in all respects as it thinks fit (including the exercise thereof in favour of any resolution appointing its members or any of them Directors of such body corporate, or voting or providing for the payment of remuneration to the Directors of such body corporate).

6.4.7. Directors' liabilities

Subject to companies legislation, every Director and former Director shall be indemnified by the Company against any liability attaching to him in connection with:

- (a) civil or criminal proceedings in relation to the Company or an associated company (other than a liability incurred in defending proceedings brought by the Company or an associated company in which final judgment is given against the Directors);
- (b) criminal proceedings in relation to the Company or an associated company (other than a fine imposed in such proceedings, or a liability incurred in defending proceedings in which the Director is convicted and the conviction is final);
- (c) regulatory action taken by or a regulatory investigation by a regulatory authority in relation to the Company or an associated company (unless a sum is payable to a regulatory authority by way of a penalty in respect of non-compliance with any requirement of a regulatory nature (however arising)); or
- (d) any application for relief under:
  - (i) sections 661(3) or (4) of the 2006 Act (power of court to grant relief in case of acquisition of shares by innocent nominee); or
  - (ii) section 1157 of the 2006 Act (general power of court to grant relief in case of honest and reasonable conduct), unless the court refuses to grant the Director relief, and the refusal of relief is final; or
- (e) civil proceedings in relation to an occupational pension scheme of which the Company is a trustee in respect of liability incurred in connection with the Company's activities as a trustee of the scheme (other than a fine imposed in criminal proceedings, a sum payable to a regulatory authority by way of a penalty in respect of non-compliance with any requirement of a regulatory nature (however arising) or a liability incurred in defending proceedings in which the Director is convicted and the conviction is final).

6.4.8. Insurance

The Directors may purchase and maintain insurance for a person who is, or was at any time, a Director, officer or employee of the Company, any company within the Group or, any other body in which the Company is or has been interested of the Company against any liability incurred by such persons in respect of any act or omission in the actual or purported execution or discharge of their duties or in the exercise or purported exercise of their powers or otherwise in relation to their duties, powers or offices in relation to the Company or any such other company, subsidiary undertaking or pension fund.

6.4.9. Indemnity

The Company may indemnify, out of the assets of the Company, any Director or former director of either the Company or any associated company:

- a) against losses or liabilities which he may sustain or incur in the performance of the duties of his office or otherwise in relation thereto; and
- b) where the Company or such associated company acts as trustee of a pension scheme, against liability incurred by him in connection with the relevant company's activities as trustee of such scheme.

6.4.10. Retirement

At each annual general meeting of the Company one-third (or the nearest number to one-third) of the Directors shall retire from office by rotation. The Directors to retire in every year shall include any Director who wishes to retire and not offer himself for re-election. Any further Directors so to retire shall be those Directors who have been longest in office since their last re-election or appointment, and as between persons who became directors or were last re-elected on the same day, those to retire shall (unless they otherwise agree among themselves) be determined by lot. In addition, any Director who would not otherwise be required to retire shall retire by rotation at every third Annual General Meeting after his last appointment or re-appointment. A retiring Director shall be eligible for re-election. The Company may by ordinary resolution appoint any person to be a Director. The Directors may also appoint one or more Directors (so as not to exceed any maximum number fixed by the Articles) but any Director so appointed shall retire at, or at the end of, the next annual general meeting of the Company but shall then be eligible for re-election and any Director who so retires shall not be taken into account in determining the number of Directors who are to retire by rotation at such meeting.

6.4.11. Executive Office

The Directors may from time to time appoint one or more Directors to be the holder of any executive office on such terms and for such period as they determine.

6.4.12. Borrowing Powers

- (a) borrow money;
- (b) indemnify and guarantee;
- (c) mortgage or charge all or any part of the undertaking, property and assets (present and future) and uncalled capital of the Company;

- (e) give security either outright or as collateral security for any debt, liability or obligation of the Company or of any third party.

The subscription is conditional upon, inter alia, the Company raising £600,000 to pay for the 510 ordinary shares it has agreed to subscribe for. Upon the conditions in the agreement being satisfied, and completion of the subscriptions, the Company will hold 51 per cent. of BBR.

10. Taxation

10.1. Taxation in the United Kingdom

The following information is based on UK tax law and HM Revenue and Customs ("HMRC") practice currently in force in the UK. Such law and practice (including, without limitation, rates of tax) is in principle subject to change at any time. The information that follows is for guidance purposes only. Any person who is in any doubt about his or her position should contact their professional advisor immediately.

10.1.1. Tax treatment of UK investors

The following information, which relates only to UK taxation, is applicable to persons who are resident in the UK and who beneficially own Ordinary Shares as investments and not as securities to be realised in the course of a trade. It is based on the law and practice currently in force in the UK. The information is not exhaustive and does not apply to potential investors:

- (i) who intend to acquire, or may acquire (either on their own or together with persons with whom they are connected or associated for tax purposes), more than 10 per cent., of any of the classes of shares in the Company; or

- (ii) who intend to acquire Ordinary Shares as part of tax avoidance arrangements; or
- (iii) who are in any doubt as to their taxation position.

Such Shareholders should consult their professional advisers without delay. Shareholders should note that tax law and interpretation can change and that, in particular, the levels, basis of and reliefs from taxation may change. Such changes may alter the benefits of investment in the Company.

Corporate shareholders who are not resident in the UK and who do not carry on a trade, profession or vocation through a branch, agency or permanent establishment in the UK with which the Ordinary Shares are connected, will not normally be liable to UK taxation on dividends paid by the Company or on capital gains arising on the sale or other disposal of Ordinary Shares. Such Shareholders should consult their own tax advisers concerning their tax liabilities.

10.1.2. Dividends

Where the Company pays dividends, Shareholders who are resident in the UK for tax purposes will, depending on their circumstances, be liable to UK income tax or corporation tax on those dividends.

UK resident individual Shareholders who are domiciled in the UK, and who hold their Shares as investments, will be subject to UK income tax on the amount of dividends received from the Company.

Dividend income received by UK tax resident individuals will have a £5,000 dividend tax allowance. Dividend receipts in excess of £5,000 will be taxed at 7.5 per cent. for basic rate taxpayers, 32.5 per cent for higher rate taxpayers, and 38.1 per cent. for additional rate taxpayers.

Shareholders who are subject to UK corporation tax should generally, and subject to certain anti-avoidance provisions, be able to claim exemption from UK corporation tax in respect of any dividend received but will not be entitled to claim relief in respect of any underlying tax or withholding tax imposed.

10.1.3. Disposals of Ordinary Shares

Any gain arising on the sale, redemption or other disposal of Ordinary Shares will be taxed at the time of such sale, redemption or disposal as a capital gain.

In respect of gains accruing to a UK resident individual shareholder, the rate of capital gains tax on disposal of Ordinary shares by basic rate taxpayers is 10 per cent., and for higher rate and additional rate taxpayers the rate is 20 per cent.

For Shareholders within the charge to UK corporation tax, indexation allowance may reduce any chargeable gain arising on disposal of Ordinary Shares but will not create or increase an allowable loss.

Subject to certain exemptions, the corporation tax rate applicable to its taxable profits is currently 20 per cent., falling to 17 per cent. after 1 April 2020.

10.1.4. Further information for Shareholders subject to UK income tax and capital gains tax

“Transactions in securities”

The attention of Shareholders (whether corporates or individuals) within the scope of UK taxation is drawn to the provisions set out in, respectively, Part 15 of the Corporation Tax Act 2010 and Chapter 1 of Part 13 of the Income Tax Act 2007, which (in each case) give powers to HM Revenue and Customs to raise tax assessments so as to cancel “tax advantages” derived from certain prescribed “transactions in securities”.

10.1.5. Stamp Duty and Stamp Duty Reserve Tax

- 10.1.5.1. No liability to stamp duty or stamp duty reserve tax (“SDRT”) will arise on the allotment of Ordinary Shares by the Company, save that special rules apply to persons operating clearance services or depositary receipt services.
- 10.1.5.2. Neither UK stamp duty nor SDRT should arise on transfers of Ordinary Shares on AIM (including instruments transferring shares and agreements to transfer Ordinary Shares) based on the following assumptions:
  - (a) the shares are admitted to trading on AIM, but are not listed on any market (with the term “listed” being construed in accordance with section 99A of the Finance Act 1986), and this has been certified to Euroclear; and
  - (b) AIM continues to be accepted as a “recognised growth market” as construed in accordance with section 99A of the Finance Act 1986.

In the event that either of the above assumptions does not apply, stamp duty or SDRT may apply to transfers of Ordinary Shares in certain circumstances.

- 10.1.5.3. The above statements are intended as a general guide to the current stamp duty and SDRT position. Certain categories of person, including market makers, brokers, dealers and persons connected with depositary arrangements and clearance services, are not liable to stamp duty or SDRT and others may be liable at a higher rate or may, although not primarily liable for the tax, be required to notify and account for it under the Stamp Duty Reserve Tax Regulations 1986.

10.2. Related Party Arrangements

Other than the agreements summarised in this Part V, the Company has not entered into any related party transactions (being those set out in the standards adopted according to the Regulation (EC) No 1606/2002) since the date of its incorporation.

11. Reasons for the Placing, the Subscription and use of Proceeds

The reasons for the Placing, the Subscription and the estimated net amount of the proceeds broken into each principal intended use and presented by order of priority of such uses are as follows:-

- 11.1. £0.75 million investment in WES in exchange for new units in WES representing 23.64 per cent. of the share capital;
- 11.2. £0.6 million investment in BBR in exchange for new shares in the company representing 51 per cent. of the share capital;
- 11.3. £0.260 million investment in Greenflex for working capital purposes and payment of the outstanding acquisition costs of the plant and equipment; and
- 11.4. £0.42 million to develop the business plan and for working capital purposes of the Group.

12. Mandatory Offers and Compulsory Acquisition of Shares

The Company is subject to the Takeover Code which, inter alia, provides that if any person, or group of persons acting in concert, acquires Ordinary Shares carrying 30 per cent. or more of the voting rights exercisable in general meetings, that person shall be required to make an offer for all the issued Ordinary Shares not already held by him (or persons acting in concert with him) in cash at the highest price paid by that person, or any person acting in concert with him, during the 12 month period prior to the purchase of shares which triggered the obligation. There are certain circumstances where no such offer may be required. The 2006 Act provides that if an offer is made for the issued share capital of the Company, the offeror is entitled to acquire compulsorily any remaining shares if it has received acceptances or purchased shares subsequent to the making of the offer amounting (in aggregate) to 90 per cent. of the shares to which the offer relates. Certain time limits apply. A minority shareholder can also require an offeror to buy his shares if that offeror has received acceptances or purchased shares subsequent to the making of the offer amounting (in aggregate) to 90 per cent. of the shares to which the offer relates. Certain time limits apply.

13. Working Capital

The Directors are of the opinion (having made due and careful enquiry) that, after taking into account the net proceeds of the Placing and the Subscription, the Group has sufficient working capital for its present requirements, that is for at least the period of 12 months from Admission.
